Quality policy

Through expertise and professionalism, we will create customized services and solutions in the energy industry that meet the customer's needs and expectations. We deliver at the right time, with the right quality and with good profitability to build long-term relationships with customers and suppliers.

The management of the business shall be evident from a living business system and feedback and utilization of views from Navitech's stakeholders is a natural part of the system and part of the process for increased customer satisfaction.

For Navitech AB, a living management system means that it is constantly being developed and improved and that the system, our work processes and deliveries are developed in accordance with current requirements and the best available technology in the industry.
